

Hartmann “20” – an Aston Martin in bits and bytes?

Looking for a virtual-analog synth with a wavetable (Waldorf) engine, for a puny 20,000 Euros? (And don't forget those taxes!) Get one before they're all gone. Axel Hartmann's hand-crafted Designer-Synth “20”, the new Aston Martin under the synths, will only be produced 40 times (20 x silver, 20 x black) – and that's it! This sportscar has new SUPRA Op-Amps inside, which should give it a special dynamic sound.

20,000 Euros is a lot of money, but then the Hartmann “20” DOES look very distinguished – a classic Hartmann design!

Further info:

<http://www.20-music.de>