

A short (video) documentary on multi-award winning composer Alexandre Desplat. Giving a rare insight into his creative process, Desplat demonstrates how he integrates modern electronic instruments like the Arturia MatrixBrute analog synthesizer with traditional orchestral scores.

Alexandre Desplat (born 1961 in Paris) is a French composer who made over 150 filmscores up to now. In the latest “Valeria” Soundtrack, he used Arturia’s great MaxitBrute Synthesizer.
