

YGRAVITY - Synthesizer-Music "Live From Space"

We came across YGRAVITY by chance. This compact and lovingly arranged synthesizer-studio - two square meters full of bundled energy - is no less impressive than the wonderful electronic music developing from its great live performances ...

Played on an Akai master keyboard, the snare drum performance sounds amazingly real ...

Many thanks to Jules for the cool performance ... and thanks for the photo he sent us for this post. By the way, new Ygravity sessions take place every Saturday (o:
